

Effortless Event Tracking with Anthology Engage

Upgrade your involvement tracking with the addition of the Event Check-in app. Effectively and efficiently track student participation without needing to carry around or purchase additional equipment. Like mobile boarding passes used on airlines, the app provides a simplified check-in process for both students and event staff, all while reducing risk of student data exposure. With consistent use, campuses can support student reflection and share documented engagement data to improve internal decision-making.

Students are able to quickly enter the event and do not have to fumble to pull out their ID. Once they have downloaded their event pass once, it is good for the rest of their time at SEU.

Carey Mays

Associate Director, Office of Student Life

University of New Haven

The app has helped us track attendance for events and programs of all sizes for various departments and recognized student organizations, including on- and off-campus trips.

Erin Murray

Office Coordinator, Center for Student Engagement, Leadership and Orientation

Attendance data collection made easy, flexible, and secure

Increase access points

Avoid bottlenecks line-ups as the app enables your team to easily create multiple check-in points at a single event.

Ditch the extra hardware

Limit the hassle and expand your attendance-tracking opportunities without the need to purchase and maintain additional devices beyond the ubiquitous smartphone.

Get off-campus data

The mobile feature simplifies things, so you can have students check-in to events hosted on or off campus with ease.

Expand participation tracking

The app's ease-of-use can support increased attendance tracking and enhance your understanding of how students are interacting with your programs.

Improve events with RSVPs

View RSVP status at check-in to ensure that pre-identified guests are admitted to events with limited space.

No phone? No problem

If a student doesn't have a mobile device on them you can quickly search and identify them on the spot.

To explore all our Anthology Engage features, visit anthology.com/engage

